

In 'Great Expectations' what language technique does Joe use when he says 'life is made of ever so many partings welded together'?